quer Casada. This talk about an easy conquest of Canada is amusing to military and naval men acqueinted with the situation. In other respects," added the speaker, "England is in a first-class condition to defend her subjects against American aggression. Russia is in a pittable condition financially and physically, and a recent careful review of the military of our Indian empire shows that India is well able to take care of itself should Russia move in that direction. In one important respect England would gain by a war with the United States. It would put an end to American encreachment on English commerce with South America, and it would tend to solidify all parts of the empire, and to bind the American colonies more securely to Great Britain. British commerce would gain more than it would lose, and American commerce would cease to exist. But there is a deep, underlying stratum of common sense and sound judgment in the American character that will, in my opinion, prevent any step being taken that would imperil the friendly relations now subsisting between the two great English speaking countries."

he is no better than half a dozen who have an equal claim with him to the public confidence. In the face of the New York schism it seems to me his momination would be sheer suicide, and I have so much respect for his sense of dignity and honor that I take it for granted that he will in due time withdraw his name." In reference to a hint that he himself might be a candidate, Mr. Watterson sarcastically remarked: "When there has been a foreign war and I have had the opportunity to aink my confederate record under a Union commission and do predigies of valor on the tented field—or words to that effect—come to me and I will talk to you about it."

To Raise the Price They Make Thou

London, March 13.—The coal strife is opresding and has assumed dimensions not herstofore apprehended. Today the miners of Lincolnshire quit work, acting in sympathy with the federation. This action will make necessary the shutting down of the Appleby Iron company, North Lincoln Iron company, Fordingham Steel and Iron company, Fordingham Steel and Iron company, Trent works, Red Horn Hill Iron and Coal company and several other large firms in the North Lincolnshire iron trade. The furnace of South Lincolnshire will be shut down and the manufacture of pig iron in that district will practically cease.

By the action of today alone it is estimated by the most conservative that at least ten thousand will be added to the great army already idle. Reports from Sheffield, Birmingham, Manchester and Leeds show a low stock of fuel, which must result in a stoppage of the working factories. The price of coal is expected to make another jump tomorrow so that even private families will begin to suffer severely.

George Floto Finds Relief from a Burning Fever

IN THE WATERS OF THE GRAND

Rast night about 8:30 o'clock Ge lote, while in the debrium of type ever, jumped through a window is ing hurt. When she picked bereif upher husband had desppeared the crossed the street to a neighbor and hysterically told what had occurred.

Four young men who were there ran after the crazed man, but he cluded them. The next seen of Mr. Floto was as he reached the railroad bridge, running at tep speed. One man was standing on Front street and another at the approach to the bridge. Past the latter Mr. Floto dashed, commanding everybody to stand out of his way, and yelling that he was going to jump into the river and kill himself. On the way to the first abutment he stopped and gazed into the rapidly flowing stream.
Apparently concluding that the water was not deep enough at that point he proceeded to the abutment and stepped out upon the slight projection. He stood still a second, looked back over his shoulder and then threw himself from the bridge. He struck flat on his atomach. There was a splash, and quickly the waters closed over him. A moment later he came to the surface about fifty feet from where he wen't down, waived hie arms wildly, and shouted, Murder! Murder! Again he sank never to appear alive, and the waters flowed on over his lifelees body.
In the once happy little home on Straight street there is a sorrowing widow and three fatherless children.

A reporter visited the house and found Mrs. Floto prostrated with grief.
Neighbors were trying to cheer her up, telling her that perhaps it was not as bad as it had been repurted. In a little room adjoining elept the eldest children. They did not know that their father was dead.

The police were notified and a equad of men was sent to drag the river. Boats could not be found and several hours were lost before the work began. At 12 o'clock the police returned to the station, being unable to locate the body. The search will be resumed this morning.

HE SUGGESTS A NOVEL REMEDY

Mr. Frye's third lecture on "Poverty" a Grand Rapide" was delivered before dience which filled every seat in the verbe, which deal largely with the beuses of poverty, Mr. Frye said:

"A man who tree nowadays to solve any social problem is looked upon as an anarchist or some other kind of a shall say tonight I say after thoughtfut consideration upon the subject.

That there is abundance of poverty in Grand Rapids is true, and that there is sufficient charity bestowed upon the city's poor is equally true. Let us then consider the questions: What is the cause of so many poor? and,
What is the cure for this poverty?
The pauper and the poor main stand at opposite poles. The whole diameter of manhood hes between them.
Pauperism is the state of voluntary want, of willful beggarism. It is found not only in hovels, but in palaces. It is not only covered with rags, but with velvet. There are paupers in sealed houses, in government offices and in the pulpits. Everyone is a pauper who expects to get something for which he does not give an equivalent. It is pauperism, not poverty, that all men should wish to exterminate. Poverty cannot be argued down, or legislated out of existence. Every man is been poor, and every man dies poor. So long as this law remains in force there will be poverty, absolute and relative. The blind, crippled, imbecile, insane, orphaned, aged without friends and deserted children should be cared for. Retreats should be provided for the crippled street beggar and the blind organ grinder, who are a menace to eivilization.

The Great Army of Beggars per cent of street begging is undeserving. Food given at the dodrgoes largely to the support of idlers.

There is pauperism, mean, impudent pauperism in Grand Rapids. Lest some worthy person goes hungry, five unworthy ones must be fed. Idleness and impudence may be given as the purely personal reasons for poverty.
In the order of their influence, I believe the causes of poverty in Grand Grand Rapids to be —...

At this point Mr. Frye asked if there was any man in his audience who would stend up and tell in as few words as possible, what, in his opinion, was the chief cause of poverty as he had seen it. In response a man arose and said, "Idleness, bad women and rum."

Resuming, Mr. Frye said: "The influence of the saloon is the principal cause, the general cause, of all the poverty in our land. In New York city there is one saloon for every 124 people, and one church for every 2400 people. In Grand Rapids there is one saloud or drinking place for every 225 people, and one regularly constituted church for every 2,000 people. There is about one real temperance church in Grand Rapids to about every 10,000 people. What a power this monster traffic has on our commonwealth! The almahouses of New York revealed the fact that 85 per cent. of the men were intemperate, and 42 per cent. of the women.

OPPOSED TO HARRISON,

Wassesoro, March 12.—A canvass of the Republican senators, made recently by one of their interested colleagues, is said to have shown that one-third of the senators wanted President Harrison renominated, while the other two-thirds believed that this would result unless some plan of action was speedily seveloped. While no definite agreement has been reached by these anti-administration senators, it has been virtually decided that unpledged delegations shall be sent to Minneapolis from as many states as possible. It was goesip at the capitol today that the name of Senator Manderson would be presented at the Minneapolis convention by the Nebraska delegation. Senator Manderson's friends stated that while there had been some talk to the same effect in Nebraska, it was doubtful whether the senator would permit the use of his name.

Washington, March 13.—Congress-man Townsend, of Celorado, who has made a careful canvass, now estimates made a careful canvass, now estimates that the silver bill will pass the house by twenty majority. He thinks it will have about ten republican votes, but declines to make any prediction on the senate. Congressman Bacon, of New York, a democrat, just returned from the south, says silver sentiment is apparently losing ground there, and if members were fresh from an election, instead of representing the sentiment of the election sixteen months ago, they would not inest on dividing the democratic party.

Robbed by Bandita.

DURANCO, Mex., March 13.—C. W.
Brittam, manager of Vaca's mines, seventy-five miles west of this place, was the victim of a bold robbery on Monday. He started with a wagon containing ten thousand silver dollars, accompanied by J. H. Herndon, a young American and two armed Mexican guards. The party was attacked by twenty-five bandits. In the fight one guard was killed and Herndon was severely wounded, and one bandit was killed. Brittain secaped to the woods and the wagon and silver were captured.

Drs Morkes, March 13.—The republicans of Polk county yesterday held a convention to select delegates to the state convention next week. Resolutions indorsing Harrison and Blaine were unanimously passed. An attempt was made to instruct the delegation for Harrison, but it was defeated by a vote of 104 to 7. Delegates to the state convention are leginning to arrive for the meeting next Wednesday, and preparations are making for a most enthusiastic gathering.
